

A lecture programme to celebrate World Rivers Day was held today at K C Das Commerce College. Principal Dr Hrishikesh Baruah spoke on the significance of rivers in sustaining various ecosystems as well as human aspirations. Noted environmentalist and Founder President of the organisation 'Save Bharalu (Bharalu Bachao)', Dr Rabindra Nath Mazumdar delivered a very informative talk on the state of Bharalu, Basistha, Bahini and Mora Bharalu rivers which flows through Guwahati. Participants could see the extent of pollution of these rivers and impacts of human engineered activities on these rivers. Ways and means of river restoration were also discussed. Proactive participation of the citizens of Guwahati is the need of the hour. The event was organised by the NCC and ECO Club of the College.
