SITA project on career planning awareness inaugurated

GUWAHATI, Sept 29: A State Innovation and Transformation Aayog (SITA) sponsored project, 'Workshop on creating awareness on career planning and development' was inaugurated today at an official programme held at the KC Das Commerce College, by the vice-chairman of SITA, Ramen Deka, a press release stated.

The project will be implemented by the KC Das Commerce College, Guwahati and Needemy Llp, Bengaluru.

Deka handed over the first installment of the funds for the project to the Principal of the college, amounting to Rs 8 lakh. The estimated cost of the project is twenty lakh rupees.

The objective of the project is to create awareness among students about career planning and development through workshops and relevant interventions.

Deka said that this workshop will be helpful to the youth by helping them discover their strengths, develop skills and walk the right career path, thereby making them job-ready, growth-oriented and thus contribute to the economy. He also said that parents should not pressurize their children too much but instead should give their children the freedom to choose their subjects of interest.

Dr Hrishikesh Baruah, Principal of KC Das Commerce College, N Sawarji, representative of Needemy Llp, Bengaluru, DS Hazari, ARO SITA, Dipankar Bora, LO SITA and other officials and students of the college attended the programme.
