9. Outcome of the Event (Please describe within 200 words): The celebration of International Mother Language Day at K.C. Das Commerce College proved to be both meaningful and impactful for the students and faculty members. The event successfully raised awareness about the importance of preserving and promoting one's mother tongue in an increasingly globalized world. Through the speech competition, students were given a platform to articulate their thoughts on the relevance and necessity of their native language, which enhanced their confidence and communication skills.

The participation of students in the competition reflected their enthusiasm and deep connection with their linguistic roots. It also encouraged critical thinking as they explored the cultural, emotional, and social significance of the mother tongue. The insightful speeches delivered by the faculty members further enriched the understanding of the audience, emphasizing the role of language in shaping identity and heritage.

Overall, the program fostered a sense of pride and responsibility among students towards their native language. It also strengthened the academic environment by promoting active learning, creativity, and cultural awareness, making the event a successful and enriching experience for everyone involved.
