Be it the discussions and interaction with the economics faculty or the tour of the largest library in Northeast India, both had a significant positive outcome in terms of setting our aim in life as a student of economics and perspective building on the ins and outs of a central university

In terms of benefits for the students, the visit was an eye opening event as it provided us with a short but valuable experience of the campus life in the university and the discussions with the faculty members provided us a insight into the scope in future studies and collaboration opportunities
